

- Therapy With Rachel Website Notes and Intent
 - I am a therapist who owns Therapy With Rachel, PLLC. It is my private practice and I am the sole member. I need a website to direct current and prospective clients to book with me.
 - The UX and UI should not feel Ai-generated at all. Research what typically gives away AI design to avoid this. Pull from real good examples of UI/UX standards.
 - The website needs to be incredibly efficient in performance, seo, and cost.
 - The website needs to feel like it is from a singular therapist, not a corporation. This should be reflected in the design, UI, and UX. It needs to feel calming, personal, and approachable.
 - I like these two websites: <https://www.groundedlivingpllc.com/> , <https://solacetherapync.com/> - but they don't necessarily follow good UI/UX standards.
 - Best setup here is likely Sanity for CMS, Vercel for deployment, github for repo.
- FEATURES
 - Interest form / get in touch on home page + a callout in navbar to get in touch that takes user to a page with the same form.
 - Should have a blog that I can write articles to + visitors can see.
 - About me page.
 - Services section that appears on home page + about me.
 - A "rates and insurance" page.
- Information about me as a therapist. Here is my psychology today page.
 - <https://www.psychologytoday.com/us/therapists/rachel-crickmar-wake-forest-nc/1608263>
 - Rachel Crickmar
 - Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
 - Verified by Psychology Today
 - 5 Endorsed
 - I enjoy working with people who are looking to reduce triggers and intrusive thoughts and begin to enjoy daily life again. People who have trauma that is hard to discuss or can't stop thinking or worrying, have a space with me. Most often, the clients I see are women who have tried their best to balance health, family, work, and self care but find that they are still drained and at a loss for what to do about their mental health concerns. I use EMDR for those experiencing recurring triggers in their life from trauma and Exposure Response Prevention for people with phobias and Compulsions they struggle to cope with alone.
 - I help clients feel better at an effective pace using multiple exposure based interventions that support multiple different diagnoses. Exposure therapy is one of the only highly proven modalities to reduce anxiety and trauma responses. When it is time to ask a professional for help, you want someone that can efficiently reduce symptoms.
 - I am informational and will guide you every step of the way! If you relate to any of the descriptions above, please reach out to me for a consultation call where we can figure out what next steps make the most sense for you. Give yourself the opportunity to feel freely then let go of what is weighing you down.

- Call or Email Rachel Crickmar now for a free 15 minute consultation - (984) 300-4524
- Let's Connect
- (984) 300-4524
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- My Practice at a Glance
- Available both in-person and online
- Wake Forest, NC 27587(984) 300-4524
- I work hard to get clients booked and scheduled within a week of consult. I love to connect quickly and make sure you feel supported!
- I specialize in Trauma and PTSD, ADHD and Obsessive-Compulsive (OCD)
- $150 Per Session, I accept insurance
- Individual one-on-one therapy
- Finances
- Fees
- Individual Sessions $150
- Sliding scale: apply if you may be eligible
- Payment Methods
- American Express, Discover, Mastercard, Visa
- Insurance
- Aetna
- Cigna and Evernorth
- FSA
- HSA
- MedCost
- Out of Network
- "
- I use Thrizer for out of network benefits used in sessions.
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Rachel Crickmar
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Call or Email me for a free 15 minute consultation now - (984) 300-4524
- Qualifications
- Verified by Psychology Today
- Licensed by State of North Carolina / P022493
- Rachel Crickmar
- Education and Years In Practice
- In Practice for 2 years
- Attended University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, MSW, Graduated 2025
- Additional Credentials
- Certificate from EMDR Consulting
- 35813 / 2026

- Certificate from International OCD Foundation
- 2026
- "
- I am a Clinical Social Worker which means I have a strong educational background on systems and cultural competency as well as looking at people from a strengths based perspective.
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Rachel Crickmar
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Call or Email me for a free 15 minute consultation now - (984) 300-4524
- Specialties and Expertise
- Top Specialties
- Trauma and PTSD
- ADHD
- Obsessive-Compulsive (OCD)
- Expertise
- Anxiety
- Coping Skills
- LGBTQ+
- Neurodivergence
- Transgender
- Women's Issues
- "
- I help women and men who struggle to get out of their own heads and traumatic memories finally face them and let them go. Often times people haven't been successful in past therapies due to a lack of understanding and nuance in neurodivergent psychological processing. Trust me, I get how frustrating that can be and I am here to help you in the way you need.
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Rachel Crickmar
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Call or Email me for a free 15 minute consultation now - (984) 300-4524
- 5 Endorsements
- Mary Wolinski
- Mary Wolinski
- Counselor, MS, LCMHCA
- Rachel stands out for her strong clinical expertise and genuine compassion. Her collaborative, thoughtful style helps clients build insight, confidence, and lasting skills for meaningful change.
- Madison Clinger
- Madison Clinger
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSW-A, PMH-C
- Rachel is a compassionate therapist focused on supporting all her clients. She creates a warm and empathetic space for those who are opening up about trauma or adverse life experiences. Rachel is knowledgeable and makes therapy fun! Highly recommend!

- Kristen Fowler
- Kristen Fowler
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSW-A
- Rachel is a skilled therapist helping clients feel supported. She meets you where you're at whether experiencing trauma, living with ADHD, or navigating life changes. Her compassion and approach is a warm welcome!
- Omar A Ruiz
- Omar A Ruiz
- Marriage & Family Therapist, LMFT
- Julie Sams
- Julie Sams
- Licensed Professional Counselor, MA, LCMHCS, RYT
- Rachel Crickmar has been with our practice for a year and is a joy to work with. EMDR-trained, upbeat, and energetic, she is exceptionally compassionate. She works wonderfully with adolescents and young adults. I fully endorse her!
- Client Focus
- Age
- Adults
- Participants
- Individuals
- Treatment Approach
- Types of Therapy
- Acceptance and Commitment (ACT)
- Attachment-based
- EMDR
- Exposure Response Prevention (ERP)
- Prolonged Exposure Therapy
- Trauma Focused
- "
- I draw from several prominent evidence based practices, but I believe it is important to look at the whole person before deciding on treatment as well; making an informed decision together on what is best for your healing. Some people find that EMDR is the best and only way to heal after trying everything, while others are trying therapy out for the first time and prefer an eclectic approach.
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Rachel Crickmar
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Call or Email me for a free 15 minute consultation now - (984) 300-4524
- Location
- Primary Location
- Wake Forest, NC 27587(984) 300-4524

-
-
- Nearby Areas
- Cities
- Raleigh, NC
- Wake Forest, NC
- Youngsville, NC
- Counties
- Franklin
- Wake
- Zips
- 27587
- 27596
- 27615
- Neighborhoods
- North
- Summerfield
- "
- I work hard to get clients booked and scheduled within a week of consult. I love to connect quickly and make sure you feel supported!
- Photo of Rachel Crickmar, Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Rachel Crickmar
- Clinical Social Work/Therapist, MSW, LCSWA
- Call for a free consultation now - (984) 300-4524